

Who?

Fundación Tropicalia is a non-profit organization that supports the sustainable development of Miches, El Seibo.

Why?

The diverse natural beauty of Miches is attracting international tourism, and the responsible management of this destination is crucial for its conservation. We want for Miches to be a model for sustainable tourism and socio-economic inclusion, with respect for the environment.

How?

Forming strategic partnerships, developing high-impact programs and working in four key program areas. We work with local stakeholders, generating solutions and innovations to attract resources and new opportunities for our interest groups.

Environment

- Environmental investigation and management.
- Beach rescue and maintenance.
- Preservation of the natural environment.

Sociocultural Avocacy

- Gender initiatives.
- Promoting the cultural heritage of the region.
- Publications and access to information.

Productivity

- Climate-smart agriculture.
- Professional development.
- Developing small and micro enterprises.
- Access to financing.

Education

- Complementary education programs.
- School renovation and maintenance.
- Scholarships for higher education.

10 Years of Milestones

Total Investment

USD $5,114,000

12% of this investment comes from funds raised through projects or donations. 88% has been a direct contribution from Tropicalia.

Beneficiaries over 10 years:

10,940

Beneficiaries Impacted

35%
Adults
(women and men)

65%
Children and adolescents

Since 2016 we've been accounting for participants of our initiatives by gender.

57%
Women

43%
Men